If we go out early this week with the announcement regarding the recent sampling, we will be doing so prior to the conversation with Chemours and their agreement to continue sampling.

Please take a look at the statements below and ensure they are accurate at this time. Also, please respond to the last question regarding Next Steps.

Once I hear back from you on Monday, I'll create the comms plan incorporating these statements to share with both the front office and with HQ.

Please advise – thank you very much.

Joan
